

Detecting Deception

This one-day interview/interrogation course is designed to provide patrol officers and detectives with the necessary training to successfully detect the verbal and non-verbal indicators of deception. This course takes the best of the deception detection techniques from the longer Subconscious Communication Interview and Interrogation program to assist the street officer in determining "reasonable suspicion" when evaluating information from street encounters.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Criminal Justice professionals interested in improving their skills at gathering information through the use of the interview and/or the interrogation process.

Patrol and field personnel wanting to discover how to accurately evaluate information gathered from street encounters and conquer an individual's barriers to truthfulness.

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN:

Successfully gather information and to evaluate the accuracy of data collected.

Recognize non-verbal communication and the role it plays in the communication process.

Comprehend key verbal words or phrases that assist in determining deception or involvement in individuals.

Utilize conscious and subconscious rapport building to create either a positive or negative environment.

Manipulate proxemics for utmost benefits.

How to use their posture and communication style for maximum results.

This event is offered on the following dates:

Friday, September 9, 2011 - Friday, September 9, 2011, 8:00 AM - 4:30 PM
Seattle, WA - Washington State Criminal Justice

Registration: <http://www.wrctc.org/EBForms.aspx?EBID=421&EBType=R>

Registration point of contact:

Sergeant Jeff Selleg

Office of Professional Development

Port of Seattle Police Department

Valley SWAT Team Leader

206 787-6660

WSTOA Director of Training